

Contents

	Foreword	7
Chapter 1	1700–1800	9
	The Jews in England	9
	Early Jewish visitors and residents	11
	Sephardi families	16
	Religious life	16
	The end of the century	17
Chapter 2	1800–1900	19
	1800–20	19
	Health professionals	20
	The Burial Ground lease	22
	Early traders	24
	Women shopkeepers	27
	1820–40	27
	Bath as a health resort 1830s	31
	1840–60	33
	Transient families	35
	Health professionals	36
	The 1850s	37
	1860–70	39
	Assimilation and antisemitism	40
	Transient families	44
	Travel and outward migration	45
	1870–90	47
	Women	50
	1890–1900	51
	The Lower Twerton Mills	53
	Jewish arrivals 1850–1914	54
	Sympathy and prejudice	55
	The end of the century	56
Chapter 3	1900–1945	59
	East European refugees	59
	Bath in the First World War	61
	Services and celebrations	66
	Jewish businesses	67
	Religious life in the 20s and 30s	70
	Refugees from Germany	73
	Anti-Jewish sentiment	81
	Bath in the Second World War	84
Chapter 4	The synagogues	89
	Synagogue attendance	91
	Upkeep of the synagogue	93
	Ceremonies and festivals	94
	Floods	101
	Permanent closure	105
Chapter 5	The Burial Ground	107
	Establishment and early history	107
	Maintenance 1945–2024	119
	Number of burials	121
	Headstones	122
	Map evidence for extensions	126
	Site plan and list of burials	128
Chapter 6	The cottage	131
Chapter 7	Histories	139
	Burials in marked graves	140
	Burials in unmarked graves	179
Appendices	Community numbers	190
	Religious leaders	192
	Synagogue officers	192
	List of marriages	193
	Businesses and occupations	195
	Jewish membership of Freemasonry lodges	198
	The Devonshire Place Roundhouse	200
	Jews Lane and the Jews Field	202
	Small isolated communities	206
	Bellott's Hospital and the Royal Mineral Hospital	208
	Hebrew calendar dates	213
	Occupants of the cottage	214
	Glossary	215
	Index	216
	Acknowledgements	220